

Lattice Semiconductor Wins GSA's 2019 Analyst Favorite Semiconductor Company Award

December 9, 2019

HILLSBORO, Ore.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Dec. 9, 2019-- Lattice Semiconductor (NASDAQ: LSCC), the low power programmable leader, today announced that it won the Global Semiconductor Alliance's (GSA) 2019 Analyst Favorite Semiconductor Company award based on technology and financial performance. The GSA awards recognize the achievements of top performing semiconductor companies and the 2019 winners were announced at the annual GSA Awards Ceremony held on December 5, 2019.

Jim Anderson, President and Chief Executive Officer, said, "Thank you to the GSA, Jefferies and the Lattice team for this great award. In particular, I would like to express my deep gratitude to the entire Lattice team for their hard work over the past year. Our team's unyielding focus on executing our business strategy and driving operational improvements has resulted in dramatic improvements in the Company's profitability and cash generation. We are even more excited about the solid execution of our product roadmap, specifically, the accelerated product rollouts of both CrosslinkPlus and our next generation FPGA platform based on FDSOI technology, which will be key catalysts to our achieving sustained long-term revenue and profitability growth."
